

WIGWAM FACTIONS FOR TAMMANY MEN

Many of the Wigwam's Old Standbys Expect to Be Named for Some of the Positions on the Ticket.

HAFFEN MAY BE SHERIFF.

This is the Real Plum on the County Ticket, and He Wants It Very Badly—Oakley for President of Manhattan Borough.

While the talk in Tammany Hall today is largely about who will head the ticket and be the candidate against the Fusion forces for Mayor, the make-up of the county ticket is being considered, and every day sees the entrance into the field of some of the old standbys in Tammany for the lesser offices. By common consent, if the head of the ticket comes from Manhattan, the Comptroller will be named by Brooklyn and the President of the Board of Aldermen may go to either, according to the deals arranged between the Democrats of the various boroughs.

The ticket for Mayor, Comptroller and President of the Board of Aldermen will be named in the City Convention, and the other candidates will be named at the County and Borough and District conventions. Tammany will have the naming in the county of one Justice of the Supreme Court to succeed Justice Woodworth, and a Sheriff.

In the Borough of Manhattan it will be a candidate for Borough President and a couple of Justices for municipal courts. In the Bronx there will be a Borough President to be named and in Manhattan and the Bronx thirty-five Assemblymen are to be elected and about forty-three Aldermen.

Tammany will dictate all these nominations. Various district leaders will have their say as to Aldermen and Assemblymen, but in the whole the selections made will be submitted to Murphy. His disapproval of a candidate will mean the majority of the leaders who are anxious for his favor will mean the turning down of the candidate. With leaders like Keenan, Sullivan, Finn and others, strong in their districts, Murphy will consult. With the others it will be a case of take orders. In the Bronx, Murphy is as absolute as a despot. He will in Manhattan as absolute as a despot. He will in Manhattan as absolute as a despot. He will in Manhattan as absolute as a despot.

For Justice of the Supreme Court there is talk of several candidates. The snowing in of Charles W. Dayton two years ago has shown to Tammany that the man elected to go upon the bench must be a strong candidate with a clean record. Dayton, one of the cleanest men in politics, went down in the landslide when even his political enemies felt his election was a certainty. If Dayton could be snowed under, the man in Tammany who is the best man for the job must be put forward. No political work lawyer will be put up for the bench. In the Tammany nomination for Supreme Court it is more than likely that some one only slightly identified with the organization will be selected, so that no fight can be made on the nomination by the Fusionists.

Murphy proposes to run no chance of defeat to pay off political debts. There will be no reputation of the kind of the attitude of the Bar Association unless he permits his better judgment to be warped by the influence of the more radical Tammany men.

Sheriff, the real plum of the campaign in the county, it is asserted, will go to Louis G. Haffen. It is the office that pays the money, and Mr. Haffen wants it. The Borough President of the Bronx has had his friends shooting at the majority for him with the understanding that he will be elected to the county ticket. His ambition for years has been to go on the county ticket. He, of course, is the best man for the job, but the talk of Tammany is Haffen for Sheriff. He was saved from the wreck of two years ago last year, when he went down in the election, by the fact that he was elected by a large vote. Personal popularity in the Bronx is given as the reason. In the district where he has been elected, he carried by a vote of 1,400 over Low, who was elected by 1,400 votes over Wells, who was on the ticket with Low.

MR. HACKETT'S PICNIC.

Assemblyman's Festival Promises to Be a Great Success. The annual summer-night's festival of the John C. Hackett Association, of the Thirtieth Assembly District, which is to be held next Monday evening at Manhattan Casino and Park, off Hudson and Fifty-fifth street, and E 11th avenue, promises to be a great success. There are few men on the west side as popular as Assemblyman Hackett. His year's festival will be in charge of Frank J. McAnulty, President of the association. Arrangements have been made for more than 2,000 guests. Prizes for the best dance, the best family, the best picnic and the best family picnic are to be awarded.

WIGWAM FACTIONS ALL HARD AT WORK

From Harlem to Battery the Tammany Divisions in the Different Districts Are Building Up Organizations.

SENATOR PLUNKITT IS HAPPY

Queer Distribution of Power in the Lower Thirty-fourth, Where Each of Three Rivals Believes He Is Promised Leadership.

Senator George Washington Plunkitt smiles with the serenity that belongs only to the political leader with no contest on his hands these days. Peace is upon all the districts in his Senatorial belt, and even "The McMans" has left off worrying him in the Fifteenth Assembly District, where he is the leader. Plunkitt sent "Big Tom" to the Assembly last year, and now he and his dozen or so of brothers are safe in the fold. Alderman Frederick Richter's famous Lower Club is going to have a summertime festival at the Manhattan Casino, Eighth avenue and One Hundred and Fifty-fifth street, the night of Sept. 17, and "Plunkitt-Plunk" as his friends call him, will be the guest of honor in the City Convention, and the "conquest of Deputy Attorney-General Cowan." It is agreed by Nagle, Haveron and Cowan to bury the hatchet until December, their clubs, the Kenawha, the Potawatomi and the Mohawk, sharing equally in the make-up of the ticket off the Manhattan side of the district, while to ex-Commissioner Moebs Leader Eugene McGuire controls one-half of the district, the Bronx half. The campaign is to be managed by a triumvirate in the south half, the selection of a leader being deferred until December. Each of the three parties to the compact believes that he will be the victor when the time comes, and each will be on his good behavior until then—a shrewd scheme of Chief Murphy for his party.

Assemblyman "Billy" Ellis, who was selected last fall as a Cowan man in carrying out the contract by which Cowan and Haveron pooled their interests against Nagle, has announced that he would not take the nomination again this year if it were presented on a silver platter. He is a hard worker in the district for years. He is spoken of as the probable candidate. Franklin has lived in the district all his life.

Julius Harburger, Tammany leader in the Tenth, has twenty-five of his braves up in the Catalina, including ex-County Clerk William Bohmer, Assemblyman McCullough, Alderman Harburger, Councilman Joseph J. McGuire, and William J. Haveron, who is president of the Harburger Realty Company, went to Brooklyn in the afternoon and when they returned in the evening to dress for dinner they found the doors open and a drawer in a dresser broken open. It was in this drawer Mrs. Herter had left her jewels. All were gone.

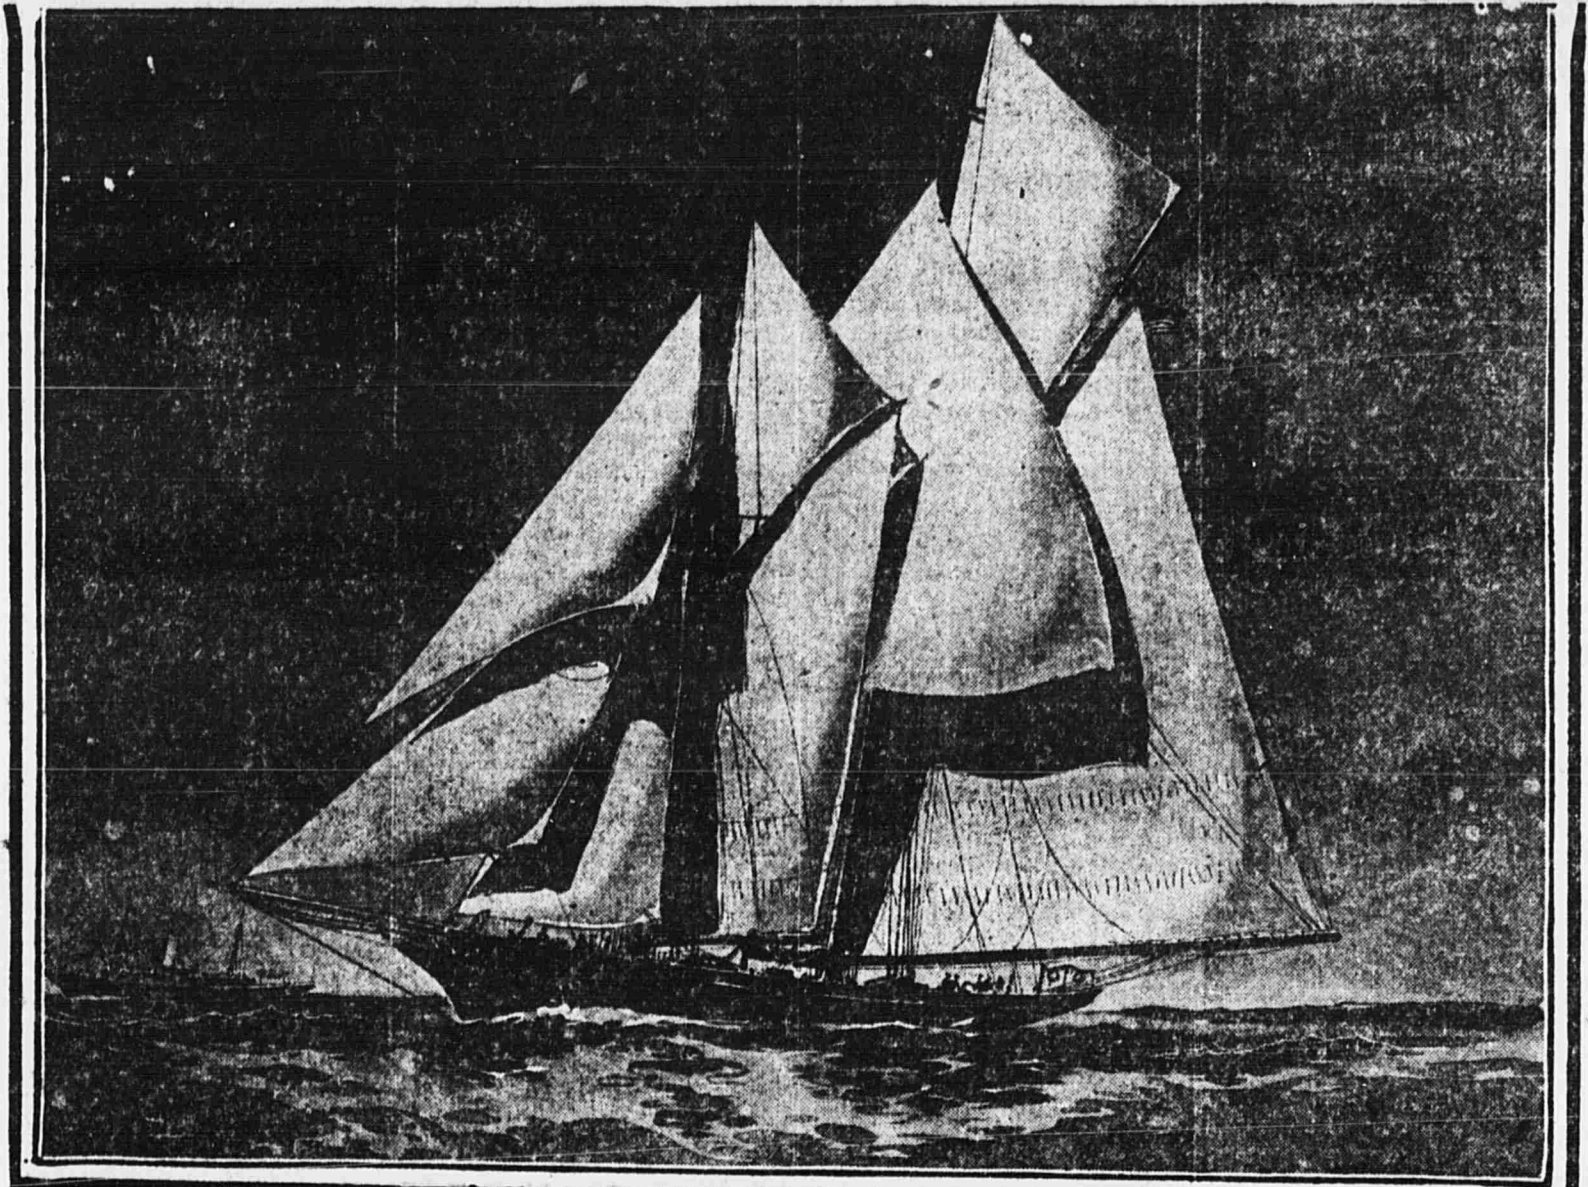

The police arrested Vance Carlton, colored, seventeen years old, who operates the elevator in the building, and Marcus Spencer, colored, sixteen years old, who frequently called on Warrow. Spencer told the detectives that about two weeks ago Warrow stole a silk dress from one of the apartments and turned it for $5.

Carlton said he took Warrow up in the elevator to Mr. Herter's apartments soon after Mr. and Mrs. Herter left for their drive. The detectives say that Carlton got the night elevator boy to relieve him an hour ahead of time Saturday evening, and that he was bringing to have another boy take his place yesterday when he was arrested.

The anonymous and threatening letters received by Mrs. Mary Melcrome and her daughter Mamie, of No. 236 Twelfth street, and by Dr. J. Francis Ward, of No. 146 Fourteenth street, will be submitted by the police to a handwriting expert for an opinion as to their author. Samples of the handwriting of Mamie Melcrome, who the police say, wrote the letters, will also be submitted to see if the two writings are identical.

In the meantime Mrs. Melcrome and her daughter are prisoners in the Raymond Street Jail, held on charges of arson. Samples of the handwriting of Mamie Melcrome, who the police say, wrote the letters, will also be submitted to see if the two writings are identical.

$10,000 GEMS AND NEGRO VALET GONE

Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Herter Miss Valuables Two Hours After Lad Is Seen Leaving Their Fashionable Apartments

A negro valet and $10,000 worth of jewels that disappeared simultaneously from the apartments of Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Herter, in the Antoinette, No. 53 East Fifty-fifth street, are being sought today by the police.

The negro is Rufus Warrow, fifteen years old, and he was last seen leaving the Herter apartments. Two hours later the robbery was discovered. Mrs. Herter, who is a niece of Justice Dugan, of the Supreme Court, and her husband, who is president of the Herter Realty Company, went to Brooklyn in the afternoon and when they returned in the evening to dress for dinner they found the doors open and a drawer in a dresser broken open. It was in this drawer Mrs. Herter had left her jewels. All were gone.

CONDUCTOR FALLS FROM ELECTRIC CAR.

Slips from Footboard and Strikes Head Violently on the Pavement.

Samuel Seider, a conductor, was thrown from his car to the pavement in front of No. 205 Third avenue this morning. His skull was fractured and he was taken to Harlem Hospital. He is in a critical condition.

EXPECTING DEATH, GIRL GIVES FAREWELL PARTY

Miss Lena Scott Chaplin, of Mount Vernon, Stricken with Consumption, Was Very Popular. Friends in attendance at the funeral of Lena Scott Chaplin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Chaplin, of Mount Vernon, commented on the remarkable manner in which she faced death. Only nineteen years of age, an accomplished musician and a great favorite among the young people of the First Methodist Church, where she taught Sunday-school and led the choir, she was stricken with quick consumption.

MOTHERS FIGHT OVER CHILDREN

Two Brooklyn Women Come Together in Fierce Battle and One Wields the Spoke of Wagon Wheel.

Trouble between the Fisher and Boylan families at No. 387 Hudson avenue, Brooklyn, culminated in a fight between Mrs. Fisher and Mrs. Boylan. The latter is locked up at the Adams street police station, while Mrs. Fisher is under the care of a physician, her head badly lashed.

Mrs. Boylan told the police she acted in self-defense. She said the Fisher children had been annoying her four-year-old daughter, and hearing the child cry this morning, she found the other children pulling her hair. She slapped at them but did not strike them, she says, when Mrs. Fisher ran out of her door with a brick in her hand and attacked her. Mrs. Boylan fought her off with her hands until she spied a spoke of a wagon wheel in the yard. She seized it and struck her neighbor over the head, knocking her down.

MELCROME LETTERS GO TO AN EXPERT.

Warnings Said to Have Been Sent to Women in Whose House Explosion Occurred Under Scrutiny.

The anonymous and threatening letters received by Mrs. Mary Melcrome and her daughter Mamie, of No. 236 Twelfth street, and by Dr. J. Francis Ward, of No. 146 Fourteenth street, will be submitted by the police to a handwriting expert for an opinion as to their author. Samples of the handwriting of Mamie Melcrome, who the police say, wrote the letters, will also be submitted to see if the two writings are identical.

AHEARN ASSOCIATION HAS A BIG CLAMBAKE.

Marches Through the Fourth District and Takes Boats for College Point. The annual clambake of the John P. Ahearn chapter of the Tammany Hall organization of the Fourth Assembly District, of which ex-Senator John P. Ahearn is leader, was held today at Witzel's Grove at College Point.

TROLLEY VICTIMS MAY ALL GET WELL

But Four of Those Hurt in One of the Two Collisions in Brooklyn Are Still in a Precarious State.

The four persons seriously injured in the trolley car collision at Adams street and Myrtle avenue, Brooklyn, last night were reported in the hospitals today to be progressing satisfactorily, but their condition is still precarious.

That was the most serious of two trolley accidents in Brooklyn. A Myrtle avenue car crashed into a Seventh avenue car at Adams street and Myrtle avenue, severely injuring the four and otherwise injuring twenty-two others. At about the same time a motorman of a Douglas street car lost control of the brake and the car crashed into the rear end of a Bergen street car at Bergen street and Carlton avenue.

The seriously injured in the Myrtle avenue accident are: BLACKWOOD, JOHN, twenty-six years old, No. 261 Madison avenue, Brooklyn, internal injuries, two ribs broken and right leg broken. CONNELLEY, JOHN, thirty-nine years old, No. 1380 Lexington street, Manhattan, left leg broken and internal injuries. HANCOCK, Mrs. GEORGETTE, fifty years old, No. 321 Union street, Brooklyn, back broken.

MELROTT, Miss ANNA, thirty-one years old, No. 146 Fulton street, Brooklyn, internal injuries. Others whose injuries consist principally of cuts from flying glass were: Mrs. Kate Burkhardt, No. 208 East Seventy-eighth street; Miss Margaret Hamilton, No. 800 Sixth avenue; Mrs. George Hargreaves, No. 201 West Sixty-fourth street; Mrs. Anna Lee, No. 800 Sixth avenue; Mary M. Jones, No. 14 Monroe street; John Bank, No. 26 West Thirty-third street; Johanna Goley, No. 21 Murray street; John Wills and Margaret Wills, No. 190 Suffolk street.

EXPLOSION HURTS TWO MEN SERIOUSLY.

Occurred at Jacob Ruppert's Ice Plant, the Second in Five Weeks.

Joseph Dilley is dying in Lincoln Hospital and John Dosse is in a critical condition in Harlem Hospital, both victims of the second explosion within five weeks in the ice-making plant of Jacob Ruppert at Lincoln avenue and One Hundred and Thirty-second street. Both were fatally burned. The explosion occurred in the boiler room, in which ten men were at work. A three-inch water pipe burst in one of the boilers when the door of the furnace was open and Dilley and Dosse were thrown in coal. In an instant the entire room was filled with steam. Great chunks of burning coal were blown from the furnace into the faces of the two strikers and they were hurled across the room. The other eight men were uninjured.

YACHTS WILL RACE 500 MILES AT SEA

Big Schooners Start from Scotland Lightship for a Sail Around Nantucket and Cape May Lights.

FLEET WATCHES THEM OFF.

Endymion, Which Was the Victor Last Year Over Outside Course, Is a Prominent Competitor in the Present Contest.

Six schooner yachts started from Scotland Lightship today on the longest ocean race ever arranged for yachts in cruising trim. The course is 524 miles in length. The yachts will run to South Shoal Lightship off Nantucket, then back to Northeast End Light off Cape May and finish at the original starting line. No such course has ever before been covered by racing yachts except in the transatlantic contest of years ago between the Henrietta, Fleetwing, Vesta, Dauntless and Coronet.

The yachts competing in the present event are Commodore Robert E. Todd's Thistle, E. S. Cole's Hildegarde, George Lauder's Endymion, Dr. L. A. Stimson's Fleur de Lys, Morton F. Plant's Ingomar and J. G. N. Whitaker's Iroquois.

Ideal weather conditions prevailed at the start and a great fleet of yachts from the Atlantic Yacht Club's squadron went down to Scotland Lightship to see the start and follow for a while in the wake of the racers.

Henry J. Gielow, Frederick Vilmar and Charles E. Schuyler, of the Regatta Committee of the Atlantic Yacht Club, started the racers. The club will award a first, second and third prize to five yachts finish. In a previous race between the yachts last July from Breston's Reef Light round South Shoal and Northeast Light, the Endymion was victor.

FROST WARNING SENT OUT.

IN WORKHOUSE TO AVOID PAYING WIFE

Gustaf A. Anderson, an Iron Manufacturer, Goes to Blackwell's Island Rather than Give Her $15 a Week.

LUDLOW JAIL NOT ENOUGH.

After He Spent Considerable Time in County Prison and Still Refused to Make Payment Justice Davis Increased Punishment.

Gustaf A. Anderson, an architectural iron manufacturer with a factory at No. 417-419 West One Hundred and Twenty-seventh street, is now boarding in the County Workhouse, and is likely to remain a guest of the authorities until he makes up his mind to pay his wife $15 a week alimony. Mr. Anderson is determined to spend the remainder of his life in jail rather than give up the money.

Anderson, a meek little man, appeared before Justice Davis in the Supreme Court on a writ of habeas corpus secured by his attorney, Walter F. Severance. His wife, a handsome woman of imposing physique, was in court with her lawyer, Moses H. Grossman. Anderson said that his wife was independently wealthy, and that she was unreasonably jealous and had an ungovernable temper. "She weighs 200 pounds and I only 140, and she would hurt me against the wall and beat my face with a bunch of keys," he said.

The pair were married in the Hotel Endicott in 1897, and separated in 1900. After being bombarded with love letters Mrs. Anderson agreed to a reconciliation, but had to again leave her husband in the County Workhouse, and was awarded $15 a week alimony, pending trial. Anderson has persistently refused to pay the alimony and has been spending most of his time since then in Ludlow Street Jail. Justice Davis thought that too easy for him, and ordered him to the County Workhouse.
